

Who are Terra Lingua USA Students?

Students who come to the United States for an international exchange have been thoroughly screened by our international partners.

These students are generally curious, bright students who want to learn more about America than what they see on TV.

These students are between the ages of 14 – 18 and have some level of English ability already. They come with their own spending money and health insurance.

Mission of Terra Lingua USA

Terra Lingua USA, founded in October 1997, is an established non-profit, educational organization dedicated to language education and international understanding. Our vision is to promote international understanding and communication through relationships built one student and one family at a time.

We believe that young people need real-life experiences to enhance their classroom learning. It is our desire to provide such experiences and thus help each student develop an awareness of their role as a world citizen.
